

ALBION PRESENTS

Spring Merch Magazine

Introduction

Welcome, dear Albioneers, to our farmers market of fresh designs. For you we have created an abundance of new, juicy, and exciting garments for you to show off your love for literature, the English language and our lovely association. We have given you multiple customisation options to make each design fit your style perfectly. Fear not, and take a look at our offerings

A Quick Note

Before I give the floor, or catalogue, back to our lovely PR-member Marèl, I (Hilde) would like to take this page to inform those that are not aware yet of a change that occurred last year.

As it happens, DressMe has changed the way their pricing works somewhat, which makes it impossible for us to give you any definite prices in this catalogue.

The rest of the prices are simply an estimation on the more bleak side, so chances are the costs might go down during our ordering process. Especially the estimation of the sweaters is quite drastic and we expect these to improve lots once the orders come in! This is why we want to ask you not to transfer any money to the bank account yet until we send out the confirmation emails with the correct total.

I have complete faith that our merch will make up for any confusion this may cause!

With love,
Hilde

Tintern Abbey

Does this design make you want to frolic through a forest, have lavish picnics in the meadows and stare at the sunset? Our Tintern Abbey design will give you all the cottagecore feels for spring. You'll blend right in with your surroundings with the spring flowers, young animals and warm sun on your skin

Si:p?

After the whopping success of the Albion Goose and Goat, we present to you, the Albion Sheep. Or is it? We aren't really sure, but he sure seems like a good boy. This with this lovely new disguise we're sure you'll stand out among all our other lovely Albion lambs.

Al bee on

Al the Bee on a bag, or a t-shirt, or a long sleeve. That's it. Just Al Bee On you. With this shirt, with Al On it, you will Bee the center of attention. Or maybe get it On a totebag and store Al of your Beelongings in there. But don't worry, Al is very friendly. So even the most allergic of AlBeeOneers won't have a problem parading around with Al appearal

Hammet

To be, or not to...ANDY'S COMING! He's gone?
Good, then I can keep praising our designs. We know that god hath given Hamlet one face,
but we have made it another. And face we have given him is Hammet, the sweet, slightly scared plastic pig from Toy Story. And though both are iconic characters, do know that I think one of these two is far superior over the other.

Albion Cliffs

When staring out at these beautiful gifts, you might see a word forming. Telling you to show your enthusiasm for our association. And hey, why not do it while also rocking a beautiful landscape. Also fun fact, our next design lives in the waters of these beautiful Albion cliffs. Are we getting Albion Merchcie lore? Who knows what the future holds for us.

Siren

This magical creature gives an extra whimsical flare to your spring and summer days. Sitting by the waterside, this design will feel right at home. And if you'll listen carefully, you might hear her sing "Get more of Albion's beautiful designs." But this could've also been my own illusion. With Sirens, you will never know.

Medieval Albion

Hear ye, hear ye. A neweth design of the land of Albion hath arrived. This design transporthed thou back to ye olden days, when one drank more beer than water and one would have many festivities. Now that I think about it, this also sound like the average Albioneer. So this design fits perfectly with our student lifestyles.

Owlbion

This sweet animal would like to interview to be Albion's new feathery companion. Just like a lot of Owlbioneers, this animal thrives at night.

This little cutie would look perfect on a totebag to take with you on your nightly adventures. Or maybe your nightly adventures take place indoors, and then one of our top options would be perfect for staying in.
